MacSwiney Near Death As He is Fed

CORK FRIENDS

ious Spells.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Cork, Oct. 21.—A telegram received here today by a friend of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork from the latter's sister said:

"Get Cork to pray for speedy death."

A later telegram to the same friend asked him to come immediately as the end was near.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Cork, Oct. 21.—Official confirmation came from two sources this morning of the reports that Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork had been fed during a period of unconsciousness.

The bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League, dealing with the condition of the Lord Mayor on the twentieth day of his hunger strike in Brixton prison, announced that the prison doctors had forced meat juices into MacSwiney's mouth during a fit of delirium which the prisoner suffered last night.

From the government side it was stated at the home office that the Lord Mayor had been fed last night. It was explained there that the prison doctors were under instructions to use any possible means to keep him alive, but that during consciousness he resisted attempts to administer nourishment.

Senses Taste of Food.

The Self-Determination League's account of the feeding said that the Lord Mayor upon regaining consciousness, detected the taste of the meat juice and said to a sister near him:

"They tricked me, and I didn't know it."

Before lapsing into unconsciousness again, continued the account, the Lord Mayor waved his arms violently and shouted:

"Take it away."

The Brixton prison officials continued today to put liquid nutrient in Lord Mayor MacSwiney's mouth during his periods of delirium. It was declared in the noon bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League. The bulletin stated the Lord Mayor remained in a delirious condition all the morning at times being violent.

The Lord Mayor did not recognize relatives who visited him today.

In the House of Commons today, Edward Shortt, the home secretary said in answer to a question that the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney was very serious. Until yesterday, added the home secretary, the doctors had given the Lord Mayor only medicine, but yesterday, during semi-consciousness, they gave him a little liquid food.

Mr. Shortt was asked whether this meant that the doctors were forcibly feeding the Lord Mayor. He replied that in this case, forcible feeding consisted in holding the cup to his lips. The swallowing, he said, was voluntary.

Mr. Shortt said it was not true that evidence had recently come to light showing that nourishment had been administered on other occasions.

By J. Herbert Duckworth, N. E. A.
Staff Correspondent.

London, Oct. 21.—How has Lord Mayor Terrence MacSwiney, of Cork, been able to maintain his hunger strike?

I am told on the authority of an official of the government Irish office that MacSwiney has been receiving nourishment at the hands of his friends.

The lord mayor's friends deny that they are giving him any food, except the daily communion cracker.

Government Attitude

The attitude of the government is summed up in the opinion that "the less said about the lord mayor the better."

It is admitted that if any of MacSwiney's visitors supplied him with concentrated nourishment no steps would be taken by the Brixton prison officials to prevent it.

On Sept. 19, MacSwiney, in a message to Irishmen, said he attributed his endurance to "the spiritual strength which I receive from my daily communion, bringing me bodily

RAILROAD MEN OF BRITAIN TO STRIKE IN WEEKDecide to Quit Unless Negotiations Are Re-opened.

London, Oct. 21.—(By Associated Press)—The coal strike situation took an unexpected and grave turn this afternoon when the railway men and transport workers announced that they would strike in sympathy with the miners unless negotiations between the government and miners were re-opened this week.

The railroadmen's delegates issued what was virtually an ultimatum to the government that all members cease work Sunday at midnight unless the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement begun by Saturday.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the national union of railwaymen announced that the delegates of the railwaymen had decided "to instruct the general secretary to intimate to Premier Lloyd George that unless the miners' claims are granted or negotiations resumed by Saturday which will result in a settlement we shall be compelled to take the necessary steps to instruct all our members in England, Scotland and Wales to cease work. In addition a telegram is being dispatched to all members to be prepared to cease work at midnight of Sunday next unless they hear to the contrary."

Should the railroadmen and transport workers call a strike a critical phase of the dispute between labor and the government would immediately ensue, it is believed. The ministry of labor has been exerting its utmost efforts to prevent such a step.

The London correspondents of both the Manchester Guardian and the Sheffield Daily Telegraph state in their dispatches they were informed that at yesterday's meeting delegates of the National Union of Railwaymen Secretary Thomas was defeated in his fight against a sympathetic strike. He succeeded, however, in getting an adjournment of the meeting until today.

Unless the negotiations are reopened these accounts declare, the section of the railwaymen which gained control of the organization will propose a "lightning" strike.

Evangelist Feels
the Unclean Heart

"An unclean heart, that is an unclean heart, has in it the germ of every sin and crime. I am more afraid of an unclean heart than I am of a zigzag lightning." These declarations were made by Harry Morrow in his sermon at Grace church last evening. Impatience, anger, jealousy, revenge, pride, and many other evil things have their origin in the heart. Only the pure heart can enter heaven.

The people listened to this old-fashioned gospel sermon with marked attention and when the appeal was made a number came to the altar to pray for cleansing and deliverance.

This evening Rev. Morrow will preach on "Zacheus." His subject for tomorrow evening is, "A Ride on the Greatest Rail Road that was Ever Built."

Mrs. Albert Wise and Mrs. Della Wise went to Chicago yesterday where they will visit at the home of Mrs. Ed Nolte.

HARDING DEFIES HIS OPPONENTS TO SHOW
CHANGE OF POSITIONNominee Also Declares for Putting Our Own House in Order.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Making his first speech of the campaign in New York state, Senator Harding again challenged his Democratic opponents here today to show by his public utterances where he has changed his positions on the League of Nations since he accepted the Republican nomination. Re-stating his stand, he asserted that he had favored consistently an international association in interest of peace, but could not under present conditions frame a definite and specific plan.

"I am not that kind of a candidate," he continued. "It is easy enough for a candidate who is going to lose to say almost anything about League of Nations or any future plans for America."

The Democratic forces have paraded the solemn referendum of our foreign relations, and we have gladly accepted that that does not blind us to the fact that it is designed to divert attention from the unhappy failure of domestic administration. The great and solemn referendum will not make the American people forget the tragic mismanagement of their own affairs because they have long since passed judgment on our foreign relations.

Twice Rejected.

"Surely the American people cannot take seriously the Democratic insistence that the Paris covenant shall still be considered as platform and candidate insist for acceptance as it stands. Such a rejection has been twice recorded. I have repeatedly spoken such rejection from the day of accepting my nomination with unfailing consistency."

"If I believed in attempting to express the American people before being clothed with authority to consult them, if I desired to dictate to foreign nations it would be possible for me to suggest a new league, and say to the nation's of the earth and to my native countrymen: 'take this or take nothing.' But I am not that kind of a candidate. No man in my position, with any conscience whatever, or any sense of his responsibilities could have the affrontery or the lack of statesmanship which would allow him to present a plan which might have to be revised because of the happenings in a rapid flow of events, or because the public opinion of America had not been consulted sufficiently."

"I trust that it will not be improper for us to consider as a hypothetical question where the country would find itself in regard to the League of Nations even if my opponent were elected. The very latest comer into politics knows very well that it is numerically impossible for my opponent to obtain, whether from his party or from mine, enough votes in the Senate to make good his program or even remotely approach success in making good his program."

"How is it possible to take seriously then this frantic effort to divert our attention from that chaos in our home affairs into the League of Nations? It has been my duty, therefore, to present a constructive program which will put our house in order. The Republican party and America, with an idealism which limits itself to wisdom and possibility looks forward to the future with a new faith."

Position.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

On Board Governor Coolidge's Special Train, Oct. 21.—Governor Coolidge, referring to recent charges that as the Republican candidate for vice president he had changed his position on the league of nations issue, denied in a statement today that he had endorsed the league in an address of welcome to President Wilson at Boston in February 1919, upon the return of Mr. Wilson from his first trip to Europe.

"Nothing has ever been said or done by me," said Mr. Coolidge today, "inconsistent with that welcome which the proprieties required and which Massachusetts was pleased to give to the chief executive of the nation. It had no reference to the League of Nations. Nobody knew at that time what the league of nations contemplated."

Governor Coolidge, campaigned today in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. His special train early today left Asheville where he made an address last night and was scheduled to make stops for rear platform speeches at Hickory, Statesville, Winston-Salem, Mocksville and Mooresville. Hauls Wheat 480 Miles in Truck to Market at Profit

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 21.—Unable to obtain cars from the railroad to ship his wheat to market direct and with the local elevators filled to capacity and refusing to make additional purchases, D. C. Hibbard, Potter, Neb., farmer, loaded 110 bushels of wheat on his two-ton truck and hauled it to Omaha, 480 miles.

The trip required three days, without night traveling, and the total expense was $22.09 or about 21 cents a bushel. The wheat sold on the Omaha market for $2 a bushel, which he said insured him a good profit over the price he would have received by selling at an elevator in his home town and allowing for the elevator profit and freight rates. The freight rate is 17 cents a bushel.

Mr. Hibbard announced that a truck train of over 15 machines, many of which would haul trailers is contemplated by farmers in order to get their crop to market.

The car, a new Essex sedan, was almost completely demolished when it turned over but fortunately neither of the occupants was injured.

YOUTH CAUGHT
BETWEEN WALL
AND TRACTOR
Ward Hartshorn of Nelson Injured Wednesday Noon.

Ward Hartshorn, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hartshorn, residing near Nelson, was badly burned about the body about noon yesterday in an accident at his father's farm and for a time he was thought to be seriously injured. He was taken to the Sterling hospital, where physicians made a complete examination.

The young man was engaged in putting machinery in a shed and was using a tractor in this work. He was in the act of cranking the engine, when the heavy machine started in motion, bearing down upon him and pinning his body between the radiator and the wall of the barn. His cries attracted members of the Hartshorn family who rushed to his assistance, and it was necessary to tear away a portion of the wall of the barn before he could be extricated.

In the meantime, his body was burned from the heated radiator of the tractor and it was feared that he was suffering from internal injuries. Following the examination by the physicians it was announced that no bones were broken and that there were no internal injuries. He was taken home from the hospital today.

Greek Republic is Considered There

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Athens, Oct. 21.—Keeen interest in the question of succession to the Greek throne, should King Alexander's illness terminate finally, is being taken by the people, although nothing reliable relative to the subject is as yet known. The throne will undoubtedly be offered to Prince Paul, King Alexander's younger brother, but it is almost a foregone conclusion that the conditions accompanying the offer will render it unacceptable. In case of his refusal, it may be offered to some foreign prince, and if he declines the situation may be solved by the proclamation of the republic.

Seek Repairs of Dangerous Highways

The attention of some of the members of the Chamber of Commerce has been called to a very bad and dangerous place in the road at the west end of the cement paving, about one mile east of Nachusa on the Lincoln highway. SUITS AND SILKS
VALUED AT $700
THIEVES' LOOTEdson's Store is Ransacked By Night
Marauders.

The L. L. Edson store at 110 First street was entered some time during the night and women's wearing apparel valued at over $700 carried away. Entrance was gained through a back window, the intruders using a rock to break the glass, then unlocking the window from the inside. They evidently crawled through the window into the store and hurriedly collected the women's wearing apparel from cases and shelves. Upon leaving the rear door of the store was unlocked and left in this manner.

The theft was discovered this morning at 7 o'clock when Mr. Edson opened his place of business for the day. Suit hangers scattered about the floor at first attracted his attention and upon going to the rear of the store he found the window raised and the door unlocked.

Knew Store "Lay-out."

That the thieves were acquainted with the location of some of the store stock is evident. The cash register, which contained more than $15 in small change, was open but was not disturbed, none of the money being taken. A show case in the front of the store was unopened and cases containing valuable silk lingerie were not disturbed.

Mr. Edson believes that the work is that of amateurs. Seven women's suits were taken from the cases near the rear of the store and some children's coats are missing. The women's silk hose was taken from shelves at the front of the store, about 16 boxes of the highest priced hosiery carried in the stock, being taken. In the rear of the store several of the boxes containing the silk hosiery had been emptied presumably to make the burden less cumbersome and the empty boxes were scattered about on the floor.

The glass doors of a case containing girls' coats were left open. The garments had been disturbed and one coat lay on the floor where it had evidently been dropped in a hurry to leave the place. The matter was reported to the police at once and an investigation started.

Wanderer on Stand
Denies Confession

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Carl Wanderer, on trial here for the murder of his wife and an unidentified man, resumed the stand in his own defense today.

Wanderer yesterday repudiated a confession he was said to have made to Coroner Hoffman and police officers declaring it was forced from him by "third degree" methods. In his testimony he said he was struck by the coroner and beaten by jail officials. Wanderer is charged with murdering his wife and the "ragged stranger" who authorities believe was hired to stage a "fake" holdup in order that the accused would have an opportunity to commit the murder and divert suspicion from him. His lawyers offer a plea of insanity.

"AMUSING" SAYS MR.
DEVINE OF COMMENT
BY WICHER LAWYERS

Counsel for Lee County

Makes Reply to Opponents.

In a statement issued this morning Attorney John P. Devine, special counsel for Lee county in the litigation resulting from the dismissal of Clyde Wicher as superintendent of the County Home, characterizes the statement by Mr. Wicher's attorneys in last evening's Telegraph as "amusing," and he predicts the case will not be settled "for the reason that the majority of the County Board are men who have not purchased groceries and produce from the County Home keeper and have not had illegal dealing with the county and have no fear of the exposures that will be made at the trial of the case." Mr. Devine said today:

"Mr. Brewster's lengthy comment in last evening's Telegraph, relative to the case of Wicher vs. Lee County, in which he fails to explain the sudden attack of 'cold feet' exhibited by him in dismissing the case, instead of proceeding to trial, when it was called last Monday, is amusing to those who are familiar with the facts."

"He states that he 'made no preparation to try the case at this time of court,' yet the files in the case will show that he filed an amended declaration early last week and as late as Friday of last week, filed a motion asking counsel for the county to file a bill of particulars to advise him what the county's defense would be, which motion was overruled by the court. The statement that no preparation was made by him to try the case, is in keeping with his conduct in requesting the Sheriff's office not to serve the subpoenas issued by the defendant. Instead of communicating his intention not to proceed with the case to the attorneys for the county and requesting that no subpoenas be issued."

"He says 'Special counsel also seems to be haunted by the fear that the case may be settled. The County is a fair pay-master and it is perhaps only natural.' May it not be suggested that Mr. Brewster too must consider his client a fair pay-master, or else he would have proceeded to try the case instead of prolonging the litigation."

Predicts No Settlement.

"No, the case will be settled, for the reason that the majority of the County Board are men who have not purchased groceries and produce from the County Home keeper and have not had illegal dealings with the county, and have no fear of the exposures that will be made at a trial of the case."

"The concern manifested for the interest of the tax payers by counsel for Wicher indicates that they are not familiar with the manner the county's business was conducted by Wicher, as disclosed by the evidence before the Grand Jury. However, they will probably change their minds when presented with the evidence in the new suit recently started."

"The effect of Monday's article in the Telegraph, if left unchallenged was to condemn the members of the County Board who caused Wicher's removal as County Home keeper. The testimony taken before the Grand Jury fully sustains their action, and we believe even Mr. Brewster will agree when the facts are fully presented in the 'new suit.'"

"Counsel for Wicher states 'Every sensible person is always ready to make a reasonable settlement in order to avoid litigation and plaintiff has been no exception to the rule.' He might also have added that it is exceedingly prudent for a litigant having a poor case to settle same."

"It is true, as stated by counsel for Wicher that the legality of the contract could have been settled by an appeal to the Appellate court, without a trial. However, the question involved can be raised on appeal after a trial, and counsel for the county were of the opinion that a trial of the case wherein Mr. Wicher's conduct

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Bears on Top in Day's Grain Trade

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Bears had some advantage as a result of strained economic conditions, the British coal strike in particular. Leaders on the bear side contended that buying power for all commodities, including food, was reduced to a minimum. A large elevator interest, however, conspicuous of late on the selling side, reversed its position and helped rally the market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's close to 10 lower, with Dec. 2.02½ to 2.03½ and March 1.95½ to 1.96½, were followed by moderate general upturns.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to ½c lower with Dec. 81 to 81½, the market swung a little more but then recovered. Oats were governed by sympathy with other grain, starting ½c off ½c advance, Dec. 53½ to 53¾. The market later scored slight general gains.

Lower quotations on hogs pulled down provisions. Bear pressure increased later, and the wheat market underwent a decided setback. Acute weakness developed in connection with reports that a further spread of the British strike was imminent. Prices closed unsteady, 5c to 5½c net lower, with Dec. 1.97½ to 1.98 and March 1.89½ to 1.90. Subsequently, the corn market reacted influenced by persistent weakness growing out of the British strike developments. The close was nervous 1½c net lower to ¾c advance with Dec. 79½ to 80c.

strength, assisted by a world of masses and prayers.

However, when the question "Is the lord mayor of Cork getting any food?" was put bluntly to the Irish office official, the answer was: "Of course he is."

MacSwiney is "confined to a large room in the prison hospital, which room he has to himself. The temperature of this chamber is maintained very high."

It he should catch cold, in his admittedly feeble condition, it might prove quickly fatal.

There is a trained nurse always in attendance, but no other officials stay in the room. MacSwiney's relatives are allowed to visit him at any time. Excellent food, suitable to his weakened condition, is kept constantly at his bedside.

According to a medical authority, MacSwiney, if he has totally, really fasted since he started the hunger strike, should have lost nearly all his fat, over one-fourth of his muscles, nearly one-fourth of the blood, one-fifth of the substance of the skin, one-sixth of the lungs and one-eighth of the bones. Heart or nerve substance need not have been affected.

"His body," says this physician, "should be shrunken, his eyes hollow and wild, his skin parched and shriveled, his muscles flabby, his limbs wasted, his tongue dry and hard and his voice weak and whispering. Although in starvation the mind often remains clear, mental effort is very difficult, giddiness and noises in the ears greatly trouble the patient."

"The well-nourished body has a vast store of material it can draw upon when deprived of food. By feeding on their own fat, muscles and other tissues, one man lived 58 days, and another, who was a lunatic, 61 days without any food (the record starvation case in medical literature.)"

"But the average duration of life in starvation is seven to ten days."

Mayor MacSwiney's relatives say that his hand is steady enough for him to shave himself every morning and that he reads his daily newspaper with interest.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB—

The Phidian Art club met at the home of Mrs. Al. Barlow Tuesday afternoon in the first regular meeting of the year, which was attended by fifty members and guests.

The paper, "Italy Since 1918," by Miss Dysart was well written and showed careful research work. To understand present conditions it was necessary to relate earlier history, telling of social and economic conditions in that country, and reviewing the controversy between church and state, for many centuries Italy has struggled for a united people, but are no nearer to realizing this dream than at the time of Puzosi.

The Adriatic is the source of possible future discord to be settled by the allies, she said, and the friendship between Italians and Jugo-Slavs is necessary to restore peace in Europe. Italy thinks the next world war will be fought with Jugo-Slavia allied with France. The root of the dissension began in April, 1915, when a secret treaty was concluded between Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy.

Miss Dysart presented historical facts in an unusually interesting manner and with a well drawn map of the country explained so all present understood just why Italy wants Fiume and how necessary it is in a commercial way for Jugo-Slavia to retain it. Italy distrusts France but realizes her dependence on the United States, and Miss Dysart said it is quite important that we cultivate and retain a friendly spirit toward this country.

Miss Dorothy Raymond, who has afforded the club members pleasure many times, interpreted Rachmaninoff's "Melody" with splendid appreciation and as an encore played "Perpetuum" by Cyril Scott.

The hostess served refreshments during the social hour.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

After using the molding board there is always more or less flour left on the slab. This flour should not be wasted and neither should it be dumped back into the flour bin without sifting.

There may be particles of the dough mixed with the flour and if these bits of pie crust or biscuit dough are not sifted out there is danger of them becoming stale and tainting the entire sack of flour.

Even if one always sifts her flour before using it in baking flour should be carefully sifted before returning it to the bin after scraping the molding board.

Menu for Tomorrow

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, scrambled eggs with bacon, toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Cream of cauliflower soup, croquettes, Waldorf salad, rois, tea.

Dinner—Scalloped potatoes with pork sausage, baked squash, endive salad, Concord grapes, sponge cake. Sometimes its possible to cook all the dinner in the oven, thereby saving a little gas. An oven dinner is always easy and comfortable to "get" and usually serves nicely.

CREAM OF CAULIFLOWER SOUP
1 medium sized head of cauliflower, 3 cups milk, 2 cups chicken broth, 2 stalks celery, 1 slice onion, coffee.

My Own Recipes

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Let cauliflower stand in cold salted water, head down, for an hour. Put the whole head into a sauce pan of boiling water and 1 cup of milk and cook until tender. Remove flowerets from stem and press cauliflower through a strainer. There should be about 1½ cups. Add pulp to broth. Scald 2 cups milk with celery and onion. Melt butter, stir in flour. Strain milk into broth and add slowly to butter and flour, stirring constantly. Cook until boiling. Add salt and pepper and serve very hot. Tiny flowerets of the cauliflower may be added to each plate of soup.

SCALLOPED POTATOES WITH SAUSAGE

Prepare potatoes as usual for scalloping. Bake until nearly done. Then

WHY POLITICS AFFECTS YOUR HOME

BY

MAUD WOOD PARK

(Chairman National League of Women Voters.)

YOUR CONGRESSMAN, MRS. VOTER

Women, equality with men, were recognized as people in the basis of representation in congress when the constitution was framed. For every 212,000 people one congressman is elected every two years as their representative.

Members of congress, therefore, represent the people, while the senate represents the states of the union.

Does your congressman "represent" you?

Does his vote on legislative questions carry out your convictions?

If not, where lies the blame? Does he know how you feel on these questions? Unless he knows he cannot really represent you.

You have sent him to be your spokesman in the legislative hall of the nation. But have you ever given him an idea of what you expected of him? Did you find out before election whether he would carry out your principles and convictions?

Many a man goes to congress with fine ideals and high purposes, but disheartened and discouraged with his single-handed fight against a system established for years, he quits at the end of his term or adjusts himself to the situation as he finds it. Tragic it is, but true, that practically all the information a representative gets from his district comes from constituents wanting personal favors, or local or sectional benefits.

Is it strange, then, that he loses his ideals for big, real service when practically the only approval, the only instructions he receives come from the self-seekers among his two or three hundred thousand constituents?

Upon you lies the responsibility, primarily, for your vote puts him in office and gives him the power to make the laws which govern you and your family.

You want good laws, progressive laws, humanitarian laws. Then see that the man you send to congress believes in them. A representative makes the laws which control every one of the 105,000,000 people in the United States.

Your vote helps send him to Washington. Yours is the responsibility that he is the right man.

Vote; but be sure you vote right.

Our operating expense is very small—you might say we only have a hole in the wall. After all, it cuts the overhead expense, therefore you get the benefit of it. We sell merchandise on a very small margin. Our aim is to get the turnovers. I would rather sell three pairs of Shoes, make a small profit, than sell one pair and make as much as I would on the three pairs—that is the way we conduct our business—volume of business each year.

AN INCH

Long years ago it was said that an added inch didn't matter much unless it was tacked onto the nose.

Which, of course, is far from the truth of the matter. An inch, more or less, often is all the difference between life and death, between joy and sorrow, and between getting in West Point and not getting in.

Which brings one around to the War Department's military academy inch. It used to be that a would-be West Pointer had to measure 65 inches if he was 18 years or over. For the 17 year old but 64 inches of height was asked. This, naturally, kept many a Grant and Lee and Pershing out of shoulder straps.

In recent years it dawned upon the general makers that it took more than mere inches to manufacture a war commander—gray matter and courage were found more needful.

So the bar has been lowered. Secretary Baker slices an inch off, and candidates may get by with 64 inches.
This is promising. Some day it will be decided that mere inches count no more in an army uniform than in an engineer's overalls, a banker's cutaway, of a statesman's frock coat.

Those new short skirts make walking a kneesy exercise.

ONLY MEASLES.

Among the letters received by the Information Editor is one which reads: "Some friends of ours have a child a year old with a mild attack of measles. Shall we take our child, who has never had the measles, to visit the one who is ill, in order that he may take it and have it over with, especially as it seems to be a mild case?"

NO. From a "mild case" a severe case may be contracted, and in exposing your child to measles you are not only exposing it to that disease but to others which often accompany or follow it, such as bronchitis and pneumonia.

The number of deaths from measles reported from 30 states in 1918 was 8806, and this number does not include those from the other diseases which were brought about as a direct result of the attack of measles.

As this number represents only 20 states, it is safe to assume that over 10,000 deaths occur each year in the United States from "ONLY MEAS-LES."

ble, send her name and address to this a birthmark on my chest that is tan in color and looks somewhat like a wart. It grows every year. It has grown from my chest over on to my left arm. Could it be removed?

A—Everything will depend on the nature of the birthmark. Some of these can be removed by proper treatment. In many cases, however, nothing can be done. By all means ask your family physician to refer you to some experienced skin specialist. I would not delay in the matter.

Freddie Frog reads.
The next person Mr. Scribble
Scratch called on to read was Freddie Frog.
"Read on page ten," said the fairy-man schoolmaster, and Freddie thumbed over his reader until he found the place. He cleared his throat, bowed to Nancy, then to the visitors,
his many cravats,
Which he buys at the store by the

Mr. Turtle's another gay bird Who lives in this land, I have

In a manner completely absurd.

Nick wasn't there that day, as he was

This was what Freddie read:
Have you e'er been to Pollywog

And the fish slowly swim up and

THE BOOK OF ANN.

I SELECT THEIR PARTY DRESSES
FOR MIDGET AND CORINNE.
Daddy Lorimer was rather disappointed in Ann's guests, I decided.
I wasn't exactly sure what he expected Midget and Corinne Caryl to be like, but it seemed to me that he was really grieved because the famous movie vamp didn't pay the least attention to him other than that required of a well-mannered guest.

And Midget couldn't give any exhibitions of her art because the pool in the Lorimer park was too shallow.
Seeing the two actresses daily gave me a brand new idea about the work of women in their profession. The best of them work harder than envious and aspiring young girls suspect.

Daddy Lorimer had a long talk with Mrs. Best about taking over the decorating business he had bought from Ives, and then he went off to his fishing club for the week-end.

Midget came running over to my house the morning of the luncheon.
"You—you're human, Mrs. Lorimer!" she exclaimed as she dropped into a piazza swing. "I—I'm not afraid of you! So please tell me what to wear at Ann's luncheon today."

"If I'm human, call me Jane!" I said. "Everybody does!"

Midget threw both arms about my neck and kissed me impulsively.
"You're a dear! I just love you!"
she whispered.
I liked her tremendously for yielding to her natural impulse. Restraint is undoubtedly characteristic of a highly civilized person, and it ought to be applied to hysteria and tears, but I sometimes think that most civilized persons are too reserved in displaying their affection, and admiration and approval.

"What am I to wear?" Midget asked again. "I'm so afraid of putting on the wrong things. And I'd like to be just right when I'm invited to meet a girl like Deborah Burns. I'm awfully afraid of saying—and doing—the wrong thing, too."

"Midget, dear, be yourself. Say what you think! Then you'll be perfectly all right. The girls who are graduated from the most expensive private schools in this country, my dear, have the simplest manners and the most unaffected speech."

Midget sighed as though a burden had been taken from her mind.
"As for your frock, wear the daint-est white dress you possess," I suggested. "Something not too revealing as to the neck, nor too abbreviated as to the sleeves."

"I've a perfectly frilled white organdy—with a sash of the same!"
Midget exclaimed. "And the sweetest trimmings of little flowers—all made of colored organdy—in delicate pastel shades! Will that be good enough?"
"Simply exquisite!" I answered.
"I'm going to bring Corinne over here," said Midget. "I think she needs advice. She's been planning to put on one of her most striking costumes—all white crystal beads, with a cape of rose-colored tulle ruffled from hem to collar. There isn't much waist to the gown, you know. She said she thought Ann's guests would expect her to shock them!"

"For goodness sake sake, stop her, Midget! Tell her it's a warm day. Tell her to dress as if she knew it!"
Presently Midget returned escorting Corinne. She was delighted to talk about her dress and relieved because she could see leatavote MWWW she could select a violet organdy, with hat, hose and shoes, all of a color.
I had seen the dress—it was a violent violet, but still an artistic creation.
But she wouldn't accept Midget's verdict about it. She had to have mine.
"The young ladies we are to meet come from the wealthiest families in town," she protested.
"Yes—and they wear plainer dresses than any of the shop windows show,"
I said.

LEE CO. Y. M. C. A. IS ACCOMPLISHING GREAT THINGS FOR YOUTH

Success of Movement Was Shown in Recent Co. Convention.

The Lee County Y. M. C. A. convention, held recently at Lee Center, where a banquet was served at the Congregational church, was an exceptionally enthusiastic meeting and great interest was around in the work by the reports showing what had been accomplished during the past year. The spirit of brotherhood prevailed and the meeting proved to be only a convention but a real social affair.

Rev. W. H. Manshardt, pastor of the Ashton Presbyterian church, presided most efficiently as toastmaster, and had charge of the program which included solos by Elmer E. Rice, General Secretary of the Dixon Y. M. C. A., selections by the Lee County Glee Team orchestra under the direction of Prof. H. P. Stearns, and an address on "Training Our Reserves" by J. E. Hauser, State Religious Work Secretary.

Praised Secretary Fowle.
In his second annual report, J. W. Cortright, chairman of the Lee County Committee, praised the work which has been done by County Secretary Fowle and predicted success for the county organization under his leadership.

In his report, of work accomplished during the eight months he has been in charge of the work County Secretary Fowle outlined some of the activities as follows:

Fifteen communities have been directly influenced by the association program.

Six Gospel team meetings held with 800 in attendance. Thirty-one addresses on Christian work with 1482 in attendance.

On twenty-four occasions groups were supervised in game activities with 435 participating.

Organized and conducted Camp Blackhawk for the boys of Lee County on Rock River in Ogle County. This camp was held in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. organizations of Ogle, Du Page and McHenry counties, with seventeen from Lee county present.

Corresponding members follow up all young men leaving the county for new locations in business or college with letter of introduction to churches or Y. M. C. A.

Organized the Lee County Educational Service Bureau which has the granting of scholarship from the National Educational Service Fund for ex-service men, and five scholarships have so far been granted.

Four groups have been organized and other organizations are pending until suitable leaders are secured.

A very successful Father & Son banquet held in one community, 150 attending and the Hi-Y Group served the banquet.

In the promotion of this group secretary has traveled 5,364 miles.

After hearing the reports of the officers and a survey of things needed in the coming year the recommendations committee brought in the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

After reviewing the reports of the county chairman, secretary and treasurer, we realize the need and importance of the continuation of this very important work, and recommend that it be continued along the same lines as in the past until every community receives the benefit of the County Y. M. C. A.

That the following representative christian men serve as the county committee for the ensuing year:

Miss Faulkner's wide knowledge of the appealing in music is here given to player-piano owners for the first time.

John Martin

A successful business man, forced by ill health to retire, whose love of music and personal delight in the Gulbransen Player-Piano led him to the development of the new famous Martin Method of Player-Piano interpretation. Mr. Martin's invaluable work in selecting the rolls most artistically carrying out Miss Faulkner's ideas will be appreciated by every player owner.

We Give This Book to Any Music Lover!

The only book ever published to help you enjoy your player-piano, to show the whole variety of music available. Sent without charge.

If you own a player-piano, or hope to some day, send the coupon now for this remarkable new book. It is not a player roll catalog; we do not make rolls. It is of greater interest than all roll catalogs combined in one.

It is the first attempt ever made to classify all the music available for the Gulbransen and other player-pianos; to give examples of the most enjoyable music of every kind; to select for each composition the actual roll which is most artistically arranged.

Musically Authoritative

Months of time of musical authorities and Gulbransen player-piano experts were devoted to the preparation of this book. Thousands of rolls have been tested. The whole world of music has been searched for the most enjoyable examples of every kind of music.

Under the editorship of Anne Shaw Faulkner and John Martin it has been made a condensed education in the many forms and varieties of music, a guide to the appreciation of music—always with the average player-piano owner in mind.

Would You Like To Sing?

Or would your wife or daughter if accompaniments were easier to play? Any one can play accompaniments on the Gulbransen.

Thousands of high class songs are ready in player-rolls; words on the roll; no sheet music to buy.

In this great 80 page book these songs are all classified for you—Hawaiian, Southern, Ducky, Old Time, Love, Sacred, Ballads, English, Scotch, Irish, French—are a few of the classifications. Also High, Low and Medium voices. The best examples of each kind are named and roll makers' numbers given to help you buy.

Grand Opera Music

Here is the first list ever compiled of all the opera music available for player-pianos. Nearly every roll with English song words! What an opportunity to really understand the famous operas! And any one can play them.

What are rhythm, melody, harmony in music? What are the great compositions in the Classical, Romantic and Modern Schools of music? What is worth playing in the folk and patriotic songs of all nations? How can you learn to enjoy good music and understand it? All are answered.

This book is a many years' program of musical education—not by reading but by example, the real way to learn. It will make your Gulbransen player-piano one of the big things of your life.

Entertainment Programs

The American authority on program making—Anne Shaw Faulkner—has provided ideas for every occasion. Popular parties such as Church, School, Christmas, Stag and Children's affairs, have specially selected numbers. Women's Club programs for music study are given in detail, even to suggested encores.

The entire book is easy to understand, astonishing in the amount of information given, helpful no matter what kind of music you are seeking, purposely designed to help you find enjoyable music no matter what your taste.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN HELD FINE MEETING HERE WEDNESDAY

Mrs. E. B. Griffin Delivered Fine Address to Voters.

Over 200 women from Lee County met in the Circuit court room at the court house Wednesday afternoon and discussed organization from the republican standpoint for the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 2.

About thirty women, members of the women's Republican county central committee came to Dixon Wednesday forenoon and were the guests of Chairman H. C. Warner of the republican county central committee at a dinner given at The Lodge at Lowell Park.

The meeting in the afternoon was presided over by Miss Florence Noble. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. E. B. Griffin of Grant Park, Ill., who spoke entertainingly. She was given the best of attention. She reviewed the great work of organization that the prominent republican women of the state are doing. Mrs. Griffin is chairman of the woman's organization of the state and is one of the best informed political workers in Illinois. She advised the republican women to vote the ticket straight and suggested that each woman present make herself committee of one to go forth in her community and preach the gospel of republicanism and to see that all the women get out and vote.

Answered Many Queries.
Mrs. Griffin was asked many questions relative to the candidates on the state ticket and on the process of voting. In every instance Mrs. Griffin answered each question to the satisfaction of all present.

The following candidates were present and addressed the meeting: Dr. H. G. Wright, of DeKalb, candidate for state senator; A. T. Tourtellot and J. H. Byers, of Dixon, candidates for representative; Mark C. Keller, candidate for state's attorney and E. S. Rosecrans, candidate for circuit clerk. Chairman Warner was also present and addressed the women.

The meeting of Wednesday was the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of republican women workers ever held in Lee county. Each woman present pledged herself to do all that can be done to get the women of their respective precincts to vote and to see that the republican ticket is voted straight.

BANKS SHOULD HELP FARMERS' ORGANIZATIONS

Speaker at Convention Says Farmers Are in Need of Aid.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 21.—Bankers can and should aid farmers by assisting in the establishment of co-operative warehousing and selling organizations. Chairman Joseph Hirsch, of the agricultural commission of the American Bankers' Association, declared today in presenting the report of the commission to the convention.

"Many of us have been fearful of entering the field of marketing because of the bankers' attitude," he said. "But it is high time for the bankers of the country to realize that a more economical method of distributing our food products is absolutely essential to the success of American agriculture; that unless the farmers can produce and sell their crops with some reasonable assurance of a fair profit there will be an increasing tide of men drifting from the farms to the cities."

"We believe in co-operation for ourselves. The federal reserve system is a co-operative enterprise. In like manner co-operation among farmers in apportioning what they produce to meet the demands of the country is economically sound. The farmer needs your help in this work because you can supply him with that essential which he chiefly lacks—a knowledge of business organization and business method."

The report urged bankers to support appropriations for larger pay to experts employed by the department of agriculture, and suggested that state conferences of bankers and farmers be held, to enlist co-operation in agricultural development.

Harvard, however, is considered by football experts as having the best chance to win, owing to its having several hundred players from which to pick a team, whereas Centre has only about 55.

Says His Prescription

Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Public Drug & Book Company has been appointed agent for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

Get and Get Thin

This is turning an old saying face about. Modern methods of reducing fat have made a good man out of Marmola. If you are overweight, opposed to physical exertion, fond of the table and its good things, and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, go to your druggist (or write to the Marmola Co., 56 Geddes Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) one dollar, thus satisfying your ambition for a trim, slim figure, by receiving a good box of Marmola's Fat-Reducing Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription); take one of these pleasant, candy tablets after each meal and at bedtime, and you will lose your fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week.

Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola's Fat-Reducing Tablets are not like the others, but really beneficial to the general health. You don't need starvation diet or weakening exercises. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully each meal and at bedtime, and you will quickly take unto yourself wings, leaving behind your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

Which Bridge should a woman choose?

The Weak or the Strong One

If you see before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and choose some insecure and tottering structure?—

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble would you hesitate to accept it?—

The answer is simple—you would choose what all evidence showed to be the safe way—and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why then do some women risk one of the most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, when everybody knows that the most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is more proof:

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could get out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do?' Who is your doctor?' I could tell you only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine.'—Mrs. Wm. Stein, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. We are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 202 Harvey St., Gainesville, Texas.

GET onto the facts and you'll get off the fence

Right from the start Spurs let you know what you're smoking. Plain as day, on the back of the package, it says: "In Spur Cigarettes the good tobaccos from the Orient are properly mixed with Burley and other home-grown tobaccos."

In your language that means "good old-time tobacco taste." Haven't you just been hankering for it?

Those good tobaccos are rolled in satiny, imported paper—and crimped, not pasted. That's something to know, too. In smoker's talk, crimping means "easier drawing, slower burning, better taste." Examine a Spur and see how it's made.

And as the finishing touch, Spur's fragrance and freshness are sealed and delivered in a three-fold package—rich brown and silver.

Hop off the fence—and land on Spurs.
